The Central California Intelligence Center (CCIC) is forwarding the attached Cyber Corner (U//FOUO) Cyber Intelligence Bulletin - "Mask.ID" Merges Faces to Allow Two Persons to Use One Passport, dated October 2, 2018, on behalf of the Central Florida Intelligence eXchange.

(U) In late September 2018, a German political art troupe called the "Peng! Collective" announced on social media a new project which used their own "Mask.ID" tool to merge two images of two separate faces into one new image.

(U) The original "merged image" passport was said to be created as a new way to protect against facial recognition technologies.

(U) On the Mask.ID website, there is a tool that allows anyone to upload their image to potentially be used to merge with another face and create a false document. While these merged images and doctored passports are reportedly being used to allow refugees into Europe, the true intention behind the group and their Mask.ID tool are unknown.
